

Brazil: deposing of President Dilma Rousseff will unleash wave of corporate greed

The international trade union movement warns that a wave of corporate greed will be unleashed in Brazil following the impeachment of President Dilma Rousseff by a corruption-riddled Congress.

Read on >

Jennings to RTS: Uber exploits the most vulnerable workers

UNI Global Union General Secretary Philip Jennings told Swiss radio that digital work platforms such as Uber are exploiting vulnerable workers.

Read on >

Zara workers unionise for first time in the United States

Retail workers at one of the world's largest fashion brands, Zara have voted to form a union in New York. The Spanish giant is owned by the largest clothing retailer in the world, Inditex, which has a global agreement with UNI Global Union.

Read on >

Hollywood unions shape new world of work in entertainment industry

As the new bargaining round looms in the USA entertainment industry, Philip Jennings, General Secretary of UNI Global Union and Johannes Studinger, Head of UNI Media and Entertainment Global Union met with the Hollywood based guilds, the Directors Guild of America (DGA) and the Writers Guild of America-West (WGA-W) as well as with the IASTE West Coast office.

Read on >